	AGENDA TOPICS	PRESENTER
	2019 TALL SHIPS FESTIVAL Friday, 7/26 through Sunday, 7/28/2019 @ Leicht Memorial Park, Green Bay, WI	Cindy Rasmussen

Visit: <https://tallshipswisconsin.com/> for detailed, most updated event information.

- The shipyard needs to be ready by 9:00 a.m. on Friday, opening day.
- Contact Cindy if you need to get in earlier or for any other information.
- On 7/23/2019, Josh and Cindy will spray paint where each tent will be located.
- All volunteers/vendors must wear a wristband throughout the Festival. Wristbands will be available at will call, unless members would like them sooner.
- Advance tickets are available at Bay Park Square Mall.
- A very limited number of parking passes are available. Visit the website to see parking and shuttle information.
- Members will coordinate their volunteers to staff their areas, in addition to Ann soliciting for volunteers.
- The welcome center and Festival map will be located near the shipyard's entrance.
- Members are asked to advertise the event through their social media.
- Members are asked to send Ann their job openings by July 19. Debbie will have a 'Now Hiring' easel sign printed.
- The job banners Mark Hawkins created will be featured.
- Tents placed onsite will need to be labeled as 'fireproof'.
- Bring extension cords and power strips, as needed. Please label them with your name/company name.
- A variety of boats, displays, and hands-on activities will be provided. Please provide fact sheets for displays.
- A banner will be hung in place of the entrance arch.
- Items will need to be removed by Sunday night or at the latest on Monday morning.
- EAA is also this weekend and is expected to raise attendance. Duluth and Chicago are not hosting the Tall Ships this year.

	2020 SEAPERCH	Sam Perlman
--	----------------------	--------------------

The Door County Maritime Museum had a successful cardboard regatta pilot program. They received a grant and plan to expand the program to all five Door County schools during the 2019-2020 school year, in addition to possibly offering a SeaPerch competition. The winning team will be invited to NCMMA's regional SeaPerch challenge.
